Start of Noxon's Last Mile

His hands gripping tight to two canes, his face grimly frozen, John F. Noxon today arrived at Charlestown prison with Deputy Sheriff Harry Stafford . . . to await the fatal day when he was to be taken, still hobbling, along the last long mile to the electric chair, where Massachusetts justice demands that he pay with his life for the mercy killing of his mongoloid baby son.

Yanks Force Nazi Retreat

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 12 (AP)—Violent new American assaults on the Normandy front forced the Germans into fresh withdrawals down the Cherbourg peninsula today after ferocious counterattacks along the whole battle-line had cost the Nazis 124 of their precious tanks.

IN HAWAII—Georgia Macris, daughter of Mrs. John Macris of West Green St., Lynn, has arrived in Hawaii to serve as an American Red Cross secretary. She's a graduate of Radcliffe.

Lessening enemy artillery fire south of La Haye Du Puits indicated the Germans were in retreat before the American onslaught, which had pushed to within three miles of Lessay, and the whole Nazi flank at Periers was threatened from the east and the south.

Marshal Rommel's counter-assault against the British captors of Caen appeared to have spent its fury after heavy losses.

Under cold grey skies this morning, British Tommies held a solid line in the trans-Ordon salient. Their bayonets made a bristling hedgehog atop bloody "Crucifix Hill," northeast of Esquay, which the Germans tried so desperately to capture yesterday. The night passed quietly along the whole front.

A third of the "liquidated" German SS Panzer Grenadier regiment was captured alive. Several hundred prisoners were caged yesterday. The remainder, comprised of two battalions numbering 250-300 officers and men each, either sprawled dead on the battlefield or were carried off on litters. 16 more damaged by air attacks near St. Lo, Hottot and Vimont. Vimont is south of Troarn, which is east of Caen. Field dispatches disclosed 80 Nazi tanks had been destroyed around Caen in 72 hours.

RUSSIA—Red forces are today reported within 49 miles of the East Prussia border, having smashed ahead to Alytus, 33 miles south of the key city of Kaunas. Fighting continues in the streets of Wilno while Soviet troops roll ahead on all fronts.

Red Drive Nears Prussia

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, July 12 (AP)—The Red Army, knocking large new holes in the already sagging German lines, surged westward today from a point less than 49 miles east of the East Prussian border at a pace which, if continued, would carry the fighting to German soil by the end of the week.

(The German communique placed "the advancing Soviets" west of Alytus in Lithuania, 51 miles from East Prussia, 33 miles south of Kaunas and within 27 miles of the strategic East Prussia-Riga railway over which two Nazi armies in the Baltic must be supplied in part. Retreats along the whole central front were reported by Berlin. The surrounding Wilno garrison was being supplied by air.)

Gen. Cherniakhovskiy's cavalry and tanks drove the spearhead toward East Prussia in a 20-mile advance.

General advances along the entire 350-mile front between Latvia and the Pripyat marshes swept through more than 400 places yesterday, killing at least 4000 German soldiers and bringing about the capture of hundreds more.

The new forward sweeps placed the Red army actually within striking distances of Kaunas, 45 miles away; Grodno, 56; Bialystok, 51; and Daugavpils, less than 18.

Military observers in Moscow said the threat to Bialystok and Grodno in the strong central blow, Pinsk, at the edge of the Pripyat marshes to the south, already was lost tactically to the Nazis, although resistance continued.

(As the Russians sped onward, the German radio commentator, Kurt Dittmar, last night gravely warned the German people that "the supreme test" now has come, since "the distance between us and the battlefields has almost vanished.")

(The Office of War Information quoted the Stockholm newspaper, Aften Tidningen, as reporting the "highest state of alarm" in East Prussia.)

(Aften Tidningen said the Germans had closed the frontiers and mined all approaches, adding that "the people fear Russian parachutists will land before the actual attack on East Prussia.")

(The article declared further 300,000 foreign workers in East Prussian factories have been shifted to the interior of Germany because of fears they might "attack the German troops in the back.")

De Gaulle Visits Quebec, Montreal

OTTAWA, July 12 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle today visited Quebec and Montreal, principal French-speaking cities of Canada, after a day spent in Ottawa as guest of the Canadian government.

Nearing the close of his visit to North America, he described the journey as one of "general and mutual information."

U. S. Tanks Make Gain in Italy

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ROME, July 12 (AP)—American light armored elements pushed forward two miles along the Italian west coast yesterday in the face of bitter resistance and captured the town of Castiglione, thus bringing the Fifth Army to within eight miles of the town of Livorno.

Some eight miles inland, however, American infantry ran into stiff opposition while advancing from Casale toward Pastina, where the Germans showed the utmost determination to delay their progress.

American troops further east also encountered tough going northeast of Lajatico, where the Nazis counterattacked fiercely, but they repelled the thrust and Lajatico itself was brought under attack. Late dispatches said the Nazis still were holding out within the town.

Germans Plan Total Retreat From Italy

ZURICH, Switzerland, July 12 (AP)—The Germans have instilled a new general headquarters in Bavaria with indications they envision an early and total retreat from Italy, according to a report current here today.

Next Big Smash Jap Worry Now

By Associated Press

Pacific Commanders Nimitz and MacArthur blandly left it to the Japanese today to ponder where the next big American smash would fall, now that Saipan has been overwhelmed.

Non-committally they hammered at enemy strongholds stretched across the 4000 miles from Ceram to the Kuriles. The smashers, by warship and sea and land planes, aided in consolidating the Saipan and Noemfoor island victories but were too wide for that alone.

Tokyo had its feelers out, broadcasting a very powerful enemy fleet was prowling the waters of Tinian, just south of Saipan. On the latter island U. S. infantry and Marines mopped up, even capturing some Japanese swimming out to sea.

"Enemy raiders against our positions around Saipan are increasing in intensity," the Tokyo radio said. Between July 1 and 11, it added, 770 Allied aircraft raided Guam, another island in the Marianas group with Saipan. "Some damage was suffered by our side," Tokyo conceded.

The persistent Navy blows against remaining Marianas islands were outlined yesterday by Adm. Nimitz, who listed a warship shelling of Guam and air raids against Pagan Island north of Saipan, Paramushiro and Shumushu and on Truk.

Gen. MacArthur's fliers raided Ceram and Halmahera in the East Indies; Sarang, Maffin Bay, Alape and wekap on New Guinea, and Palau, Yap, Woleai, New Ireland, New Britain and Bougainville.

Tokyo, fearing the Superfortress menace, announced 30,000 children had been removed from the city.

The Chinese were stemming the Japanese tide endangering Hengyang, capturing Yungfeng and putting up a stout battle with another force near Liling, 80 miles northeast of the strategic rail city. U. S. planes destroyed 50 supply boats and two bridges.

In Yunnan Chinese troops were set to assault Tengchung, Lungling and Mangshih, enemy bases controlling a section of the Burma road.

British troops continued chasing the bewildered remnants of two Japanese divisions which had tried to conquer northeast India. A strong enemy force was routed after a two-day battle near Chupru.

Shower Needed To Nip Heat

Unless thunder storms come late today or tonight, there will be no relief from the hot and humid spell, the weatherman said today.

At 10 a. m. today the temperature was 81 degrees, which is five degrees warmer than yesterday at that time. The relative humidity was 74 per cent, and unless it rains tomorrow will be about the same.

Silent Robots Hit London

LONDON, July 12 (AP)—A scattering of flying bombs banged into southern England and the London area today.

One of the bombs which smashed a house and killed an occupant this morning came in a long, slow and silent glide. Witnesses described it as "almost like a feather." Ordinarily the robots roar over and drop in a steep dive as soon as the engine stops but in this case the motive power apparently stopped some distance from the impact point.

Damage to Australia House, headquarters of the Australian government in London was announced. The building still is in use and work proceeded today in many windowless and doorless offices. Another bomb damaged the Brazilian consulate.

Munich Bombed 2d Day in Row

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, July 12 (AP)—Around 100 American heavy bombers today attacked German communications and other objectives in the Munich area for the second time in two days.

Up to 750 fighters conveyed the armada to Germany's fourth largest city, a railway bottleneck for traffic into Italy and France.

The city of 828,000 persons also houses numerous war industries.

On the eastern and western Normandy fronts yesterday Allied fighter-bombers and rocket planes destroyed 28 German tanks and damaged 16 more.

Bad weather kept support sorties down to 1700.

Tobin Finds City Tough, State Easy

By FRANK REILL

Carrying Boston by a hairbreadth ratio of only five to four but winning far greater support in other cities and towns, Mayor Tobin held the Democratic nomination for Governor today. His anti-New Deal opponent, State Treasurer Francis X. Hurley, who came so near taking the mayor's own city away from him, still polled only 77,309 votes to Tobin's 131,507, throughout the State.

Thus, while Boston Democrats were making it a nip-and-tuck race for their mayor, the other cities came through strongly enough to give him a 13-to-7 victory statewide.

With only one precinct uncounted, Tobin had a total of 54,728 votes, against 40,671 for Hurley in Boston.

Tobin carried the endorsement of the CIO and AFL, which have many thousands of voters in Boston, but organized labor's support apparently was less than complete at Boston polling places.

TOBIN'S OUTSIDE STRENGTH

The mayor's campaign bogged down especially in Ward 1, East Boston; Ward 13, Jamaica Plain and Wards 13 and 16 of Dorchester. All were captured by Hurley. But Tobin strength outside was surprising.

The five-man fight for Republican nomination as lieutenant-governor saw Dist. Atty. Robert Bradford of Middlesex County walk away with the honors.

Returns from 1744 out of 1805 precincts rolled up 103,743 votes for Bradford. He drew slightly less than thrice the vote accorded his nearest competitor, Senate President Jarvis Hunt. Only 3500 votes behind Hunt was Speaker of the House Rudolph King.

Tail-enders in this fight were Mayor Daniel E. McLean of Beverly, with 12,704 and William H. McMaster, who collected only 5947.

CARR SURPRISES

A surprise in the Democratic battle for nomination as lieutenant-governor was sprung by John B. Carr of Somerville, who won with 60,709 votes.

Carr, from a state-wide standpoint, was a political unknown. He is 43, a member of the Somerville board of assessors and the father of two sons in the service. He was Somerville campaign manager for Francis E. Kelly in 1942, when the latter was defeated in a bid to be Democratic nominee for governor. Rep. A. P. Sullivan of East Boston and Mayor J. S. Sullivan of Worcester ran almost equally strong races against Carr. The East Boston candidate won 52,336 votes, the Worcester mayor, 53,259.

The Democratic nomination for attorney general was an easy victory for former Lieut. Gov. Francis E. Kelly, who polled 82,969 to win a 30,850 margin over his runner-up, Atty. Joseph M. McDonough of Dorchester.

A poor third and fourth, respectively, were Atty. Francis D. Harrigan of Dorchester and John H. Backus of New Bedford.

Cable Tells Sullivan of Victory

About the only one that didn't know that Maj. Frederick R. Sullivan had easily won the Democratic renomination as Suffolk County sheriff today was the victor himself, who is in the far-off South Pacific. Nomination is equivalent to election.

But friends who ran his campaign were taking care of the matter at once with a cable of victory direct to the headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Sullivan just about matched the combined votes of his nearest opponents, City Councillor John J. Kerrigan of South Boston and School Committeeman Michael J. Ward of Brighton.

The three other candidates, Dr. Frank Leonardi of the North End, Miss Ida Rubin of Roxbury and John L. Sullivan of South Boston, trailed.

Sullivan's remote-control campaign was directed by School Committeeman Joseph C. White of West Roxbury, and Acting Sheriff James J. Mellen of Charlestown. It is expected Sullivan may be home before election day since he has been in the Army more than two and a half years.

War Record, Peace Aims, F. D. Platform

By ROBERT G. NIXON

WASHINGTON, July 12 (INS)—President Roosevelt was ready today to go before the American people in his drive for 16 years in the White House on a streamlined "win-the-war and win-the-peace" platform.

Mr. Roosevelt left only the choice of his running mate to be solved before the Democratic National Convention meets July 19 in Chicago.

The answer to this question was expected shortly with reports current Mr. Roosevelt would soon indicate his choice.

Whether he will again give the nod to Vice President Wallace was a secret still held by the President, but there were strong indications Wallace will be his choice—a selection, however, which would not be insisted upon if the convention overwhelmingly demanded another candidate.

President Roosevelt, after telling his news conference Tuesday morning he will accept the nomination and will serve if elected, held a two-hour luncheon conference with Wallace.

Wallace's appearance at the White House was unscheduled. He came and went through one of the private White House entrances.

The lengthy luncheon conference followed a two-hour meeting the previous day in which Wallace reported to the President on his special mission to China and Russian Siberia.

Moscow Press "Plays" F. D. Announcement

MOSCOW, July 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt's announcement he would accept nomination for a fourth term was featured in heavy black type and large headlines in final editions of Moscow newspapers this morning. The stories evinced no surprise.

The Berlin radio said today: "Roosevelt's acceptance . . . has caused no surprise. Germany is not particularly interested . . . militarily."

Among them is King Victor Emmanuel's daughter, Mafalda, Princess of Hesse, and Count Calvi di Bergolo, the husband of Princess Yolanda, the king's eldest daughter. It was Di Bergolo who negotiated the surrender of Rome to the Germans, but now he is just another hostage in the hands of the Gestapo.

In the same concentration camp is Mario Badoglio, son of the marshal, who until recently was prime minister of Italy. With him is the former police prefect of Rome, Dr. Carmine Senise, who carried out the king's orders when Mussolini was ousted from power.

The persecution of Badoglio's relatives did not stop with his son's arrest. His two nephews, the Valenzano boys, were also the victims of Nazi agents.

A man approached them one day and offered to find a way for them to cross the lines and join the Allies.

The boys fell for it. They went to the appointed rendezvous. Instead of the truck they expected to find waiting, they found a Gestapo patrol car—and in it they were taken off to prison.

Mario Badoglio's arrest came as a terrific shock and from the German viewpoint he probably is considered their most important Italian hostage.

Distinguished Flying Crosses for outstanding achievement in battle have been awarded Sgt. Ernest P. Eddy, 19, of Swansea; Staff Sgt. John H. Tansey, 33, of Worcester; and Staff Sgt. Joseph M. Dewey Acclaimed On Foreign Policy

By CHARLES H. PALMER

ALBANY, July 12 (AP)—Gov. Dewey settled down today to a relatively quiet day after meetings with three New England Republican delegations which saw the GOP presidential nominee's foreign policy stand endorsed by two former supporters of Wendell L. Willkie and an all-out collaborationist.

No political conferences were on Dewey's calendar today.

Latest to discuss with Dewey a proposed international organization to maintain peace was Rep. Clare Booth Luce, one of six Connecticut members of Congress who visited the Governor.

The subject came up when the Connecticut congresswoman, who recently was reported trying to bring Dewey and Willkie together, was asked by reporters if international affairs were mentioned in the Dewey conference. She replied:

"It seems to be in the minds of all of us that there is a vast agreement in the party and the United States that America will, must and wants to join an international organization which will keep peace with other nations—and now I use his own (Dewey's) words—'by force if necessary.'"

Sen. Weeks (R.) of Massachusetts, a former Willkie backer, talked with Dewey Monday night. After saying he was satisfied with Dewey's position, Weeks replied to a question about Willkie's stand with the expressed belief that the former candidate "has sincere convictions and will be governed by them."

Sen. Austin (R.) of Vermont, a member of the first congressional group to see Dewey, and regarded as an internationalist with views similar to Willkie's, pledged support of Dewey.

Purcell of Cafe Fame Dies at 68

James T. Purcell, one of Boston's best known restaurateurs and for many years active in the political life of the city, died in his home, 1 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, this morning after an illness of one month. He was 68 years old.

Surviving are his widow, three daughters and a grandson who recently visited him while on a furlough after 17 months service with the Marines at Guadalcanal.

The funeral will be held Friday morning from the family home at 9:15 with a requiem high mass at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, South st., at 10 o'clock.

Identified with the restaurant business in Boston for the greater part of his life, "Jim" Purcell was a familiar figure to thousands.

Since young manhood he had been in the restaurant business. In 1932 he established a restaurant in City Hall ave., and a year later was the first person to be granted a liquor permit by the Boston Licensing Board.

Purcell was a former president of the Massachusetts Retail Liquor Dealers' Ass'n and for several years was secretary-treasurer of the Boston Retail Liquor Dealers' Ass'n.

Becoming interested in politics early in life, he was elected for three terms in the old Common Council of 75 members, beginning in 1907. He was treasurer of the Curley campaign fund in the 1921 mayoralty contest and having removed from the North End to 90 Moraine st., Jamaica Plain, was elected city councilor-at-large in 1923, serving until 1927.

In 1901 he married Louise Fopiano. She and their three daughters, Mrs. Andrew J. Dazzi (Mari on M.), and Misses Edna L. and Ruth C. Purcell, survive, in addition to the grandson, PFC James J. Dazzi.

Maine Plane Crash Under Probe; 15 Die

SOUTH PORTLAND, Me., July 12.—The toll in Maine's worst air tragedy in history rose to 15 dead and more than a score seriously injured today as Army authorities probed the crash of an Army plane in the midst of a war workers' trailer camp.

Throwing blazing gasoline and flaming wreckage, the ship catapulted through the 100-unit government project, tearing the flimsy structures apart and sending scores of men, women and children screaming from the scene.

The ship just previously had attempted a landing at the municipal airport.

FIVE IDENTIFIED

Only five of the dead thus far have been identified. Authorities checked the total population of the camp in an effort to complete identification of the victims.

Two of the dead, the crew of the ship, were announced by First Command headquarters as:

Lt. Philip I. Russell, 24, of South Portland, pilot.

S-Sgt. Wallace Miffin of Seattle, Wash.

Others were:

Edward A. Gerrish, 32, of Orono, a shipyard worker.

George Robertson, Jr., 9 months.

James Little, 4.

Among the injured were:

Gladys Conrad, 29.

Rita Robertson, 24, and her daughter, Ann, 3.

Vina Mammen, 18.

Florence Gorham, 41.

Gordon Gorham, 44.

Shirley Brown, 34.

Virginia Warren, 32.

Nancy Little, 2.

Walter Gurney, 2.

Karen Gurney, 2.

Roger Ramsey, 4.

Jennie Bassett, 60 of Pittsford, Vt.

Alta Sheddick, 40, Mrs. Bassett's daughter.

Florence Sheddick, 20, Mrs. Sheddick's daughter.

Donald Lilly, 2½.

Barbara Lilly, about three, sister of Donald.

Jackie Jordan, about five.

Glenys Brown, 13.

Gerald Sawtelle, 5.

Cora Miller, age unavailable.

All the dead were killed instantly, it was believed, except the Robertson baby, who died in the Maine General Hospital, Portland, where 20 of the injured were taken, many of them suffering critical burns.

Two of the dead were taken from a trailer occupied by the family of Clarence S. Hume, Jr. The bodies of victims were badly charred, making identification difficult.

Following the crash Mrs. Russell, who apparently did not at the time realize that it might involve her husband, said she heard the plane's crash after watching it disappear in a fog bank over the airport.

A radio request for landing instructions had been received by the Civil Aeronautics Administration Station at the airport as the plane circled at rooftop height. Urgent orders to gain altitude were flashed back to the plane, but there was no reply.

Noxon Shifted To State Prison

By PAULINE WARREN

For perhaps the last time in his life, Atty. John F. Noxon gazed today upon the rolling Berkshire Hills which have been his home since the day he was born 47 years ago.

Accompanied by two deputy sheriffs and Sheriff Bruce McIntire of Berkshire County, the distinguished lawyer was taken out of Pittsfield on the 5:10 train this morning and arrived at Charlestown Prison at 10:30, where he was immediately given Cell No. 59 in Cherry Hill Row to await execution for having been convicted of murder in the first degree of his mongoloid child.

In stark contrast to his stay of nine months in rural Berkshire Jail, where he was allowed to wear his own expensive clothing and acquire a healthy tan working in the jail garden, he was issued prison clothing.

FIRST PRISON MEAL

His also first taste of prison fare—his lunch this noon consisted of macaroni with tomato sauce, bread and coffee, and his supper will be minced ham, bread and tea.

His leave-taking of his home town this morning was dreary and lonesome. Because the transfer must be accomplished secretly, according to law, there was no one about the station.

Noxon himself did not know he was to be transferred until he was awakened at 4 a. m. and told to get ready.

NO LAST GOOD-BYS

There were no last good-bys to his wife, Margaret Noxon, who left her sick bed to call on him at the Berkshire jail early yesterday morning, and also no farewell from the 15-year-old son he idolizes, John Noxon, 3d. The latter called at the jail on Monday for about 15 minutes and that is the only visit father and son have had together in many months.

At the Pittsfield station passersby hardly gazed at Noxon as he hobbled past on his two canes, gazing somberly about him. He was helped on to the train.

During the long trip he was not handcuffed, but was watched constantly by his guards. He stared out of the window for a while, then made a visible effort to be pleasant and chatted with his guards. But he soon returned to gazing out of the window, chin on hand.

FIRST SMILE IN MONTHS

His austere impassivity lightened only once, when he caught a glimpse of a familiar face in the train and his face flamed into a smile—the first time he has been seen to smile in months.

He asked to be taken to the diner for breakfast and one of his guards accompanied him while he ordered and ate the usual train breakfast of fruit juice, cereal, eggs, toast and coffee.

The sheriffs were not in uniform and the train was full of soldiers who did not recognize Noxon or pay the slightest attention to him.

At the jail he thanked his guards for their courtesy and was received by Warden Lanagan.

The fight is on to save his life—by a new trial, a review of the case by the Supreme Court or commutation of sentence by the Governor. But in the meantime Noxon has had his last glimpse of the world and for long months to come will be confined to staring at the gray walls of a gloomy cell.

Gov. Saltonstall has received about 9 letters regarding the verdict, most of them protesting its severity and asking intervention.

Turkey May Yet Get Into War

ANKARA, July 11 (delayed) (AP).—Conversations afoot here may lead to Turkish participation in the war before the summer's end.

The talks, between representatives of Turkey, Russia and Britain, have been taken up at the point where the Cairo conferences left Turkey's position within the United Nations undefined.

Before everything else the Turks want assurance on these two points:

Assurance of Turkey's postwar political and territorial integrity, accompanied by a clear-cut statement of Allied postwar aims.

A satisfactory explanation of how and when and to what extent Turkey will be armed if she should enter the conflict, plus a definite idea of precisely what would be expected of her.

Two From Ground Find Action in Air

By HUCK FINNEGAN

ENGLAND—Life in the ground forces was too tame for John R. Cooper, Jr., 29, Fulton ter., Pittsfield, and Vincent Perez, 29, Suffolk st., Worcester. So they switched to the air corps, and life is tame no more.

Two weeks have passed since our meeting, and at the time Cooper had completed 12 missions in a month over Festung Europa, Perez 13, and each had been over Berlin four times. And each had lost some 40 pounds since they decided to go up in the air, mere 180-pound shadows of their former 230-pound selves.

"It's the mental strain, I guess," said Perez, a high-strung youth of 23, who used to clerk for the B and A. in Worcester. "It was nice to get by No. 13." Perez is bombardier in the "Last Rumor," Cooper navigator of the same ship. "I was altogether too heavy. I feel better at 180," said Cooper.

CARRIES TALISMAN

As a talisman, Perez carries a little Christmas tree sent him by his girl friend, Jeanne Taillefer, 789 Main st., Worcester. "She writes every day," he said. "We'll be married when the shooting stops."

Cooper hears regularly from

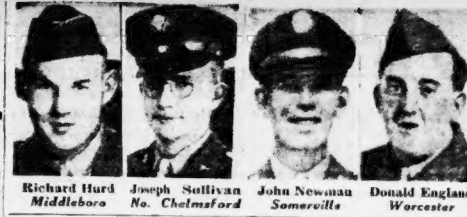

Rose Mary O'Brien of Rye, N. Y. Perez liked nothing better than to dance with Jeanne at the Lido on Worcester's Elm st., or the Coronado on Franklin st.

He mentioned the boys in the yard office—Bill Lynch, Tom Bresnahan and Spudis Oriani. Perez has a brother Dominic, and sister Victoria, both in the Marines. Thus parents Ernest and Eliza can boast a perfect family service record: three children, all in uniform.

Cooper worked for the General Electric in Pittsfield before the war. His father is a compositor on the Berkshire Evening Eagle. "What in the world ever happened to Boston College in that 42 game with Holy Cross?" asked Cooper, proving that the 55-12 upset will live forever. It is a favorite question among New England troops who were in uniform before November of '42.

Both Cooper and Perez admit they're getting all the excitement they craved. "My first trip was a milk run," said Cooper, "and I asked naively: 'How long has this been going on?' I found the answer on my second mission, over Augsburg. The flak was terrific. I'm still trying to figure out how we got home safely."

"Yeah," chimed in Perez, "like being up in a tree and having somebody throw rocks at you. There isn't much you can do about it except duck. If a fighter plane attacks you, at least you can take a shot at him, but flak—what!"

THINKS OF HIS DOG

Pvt. John Hayward, Jr., 19, of 7 Carmody ct., South Boston, was reading about Rags, the wire-haired terrier who participates daily in the training routine of the U. S. invasion forces. "Gee, I hope Golden Boy is as happy as Rags," sighed the tall bespectacled youth, who graduated from English High only last June. "He was my dog and my pet. He enlisted two years ago for sentry duty."

Hayward is with the engineers. His father is quartermaster in the electrical department at Hingham shipyards.

Pvt. John Dumin, Jr., 19, of 98 Morrison ave., Somerville, finds Army life agreeable. "Once in a while I long for ice cream or one of Ma's chicken pies, but we do all right," he said.

Dumin studied auto mechanics at Somerville Vocational, repaired trucks for U-Drive-It on Tremont st., Boston. Girl friends: Veda Hutchins, 9 Bonair st.; Gertrude Higgins, 219 Summer st., both of Somerville.

Richard Hurd, 19, RFD 2, Middleboro, stands 6-1 and weighs 240. He's built like a prizefighter but never did any boxing. All he did was farming. Parents: Alden and Ellen F. He's totally deaf in his left ear, was accepted for limited service at first, now is with the combat engineers.

"Wish I had my motorcycle over here," he said. "I'd be able to see something."

Like John Dumin, Joseph F. Sullivan, 19, of North Chelmsford, likes the Army. Joe graduated from Keith Academy, where he was taught trig and algebra by Brother Gilbert, discoverer of Babe Ruth.

"My mother (Mrs. Margaret Sullivan) works in the income tax department in Lowell," says Joe, proudly.

"I'm gonna get me a girl in England," says Donald J. England, 26, of 73 Austin st., Worcester. "The woods are full of them." Don worked as laborer with the Heel Machine Co., now is with the engineers.

Correction

Distance may lend enchantment and absence may indeed make the heart grow fonder—but facts are facts, says Miss Virginia Trask, 18, of Parkman st., West Roxbury, pretty model.

Yesterday, in his story from England, Huck Finnegan stated Pvt. John LaFouf, 20, of Cowling st., West Roxbury, as outgiving Miss Trask and saying he was engaged to her.

"And the fact is," Miss Trask said today, "We are not engaged. I had only a speaking acquaintance with him, wrote him but one letter and am more seriously interested in another young man."

Churchill Urges German Revolt

LONDON, July 12 (INS)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today he "strongly adheres" to his earlier statement that the best thing for the German people would be to overthrow the Nazi regime.

"That certainly would be a very well advised step on the part of the Germans," he said.

Churchill declined to accept a suggestion by Richard Stokes, Laborite, that he tell the House what treatment the Germans might expect to receive from the United Nations if they did so. He said this question could not be handled adequately at the present time.

Who Wouldn't?

DALLAS, July 12 (AP)—The city ambulance driver reported he was called out to pick up an unconscious woman at a drug store.

Hurley No. 4 Wins Nod for Treasurer

Coasting in to lead the way for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer, another Hurley—of no connection in family or relation with the other magic-name Hurleys,

Paper Salvage Drive Speeded

Results from the co-operative efforts of publishers' representatives in the waste paper salvage campaign are pouring into Boston headquarters. Met Hayes, New England chairman, announced today.

More than 100 community salvage committees in Massachusetts and Rhode Island have been contacted in the past week by sales and promotion experts, and plans have been established for intensification of waste paper collections.

Reports from distant parts of the state indicate an expansion of effort in paper salvage.

Under the auspices of the Lions Club, citizens of Fall River contributed 300 tons of paper in the drive just completed. Greenfield and surrounding cities and towns are recruiting playground children. Helyar has established a system similar to Boston's warmly praised U. S. Paper Troop plan.

Substantial contributions resulting from the Boston business office campaign continued to arrive this week. The Webster-Thomson Co. donated its second ton and the Metropolitan Co. gave one ton to augment the Boston Advertising Club's salvage for the Red Cross.

Boston business offices and industrial plants are urged to continue to call the Advertising Club, HUB 0472, if they have substantial amounts of paper to be collected.

REWARD

A $50 War Bond may be your reward for listening to Washington Jewelers' Lucky Diamond Club. Station WCOP every night 7:30 P. M. $150 in War Bonds offered nightly. This may be YOUR Lucky night. Listen in.

37-year-old John E. Hurley, of Glenese st., Dorchester, led the field by an estimated 70,000.

Reached at his modest home early this morning, Hurley denied that he pulled a Houdini and traded on the Genii of Magiedom in piling up such a tremendous surprise lead over opposing candidates.

POINTS TO RECORD

"It wasn't the gloss of the Hurley name or the magic behind it that elected me," he stated. "It was the wholeheartedness of the friends I made as a member of the House of Representatives from 1931-34 and later as secretary to former Atty.-Gen. Paul A. Devey from 1935 to 1941."

Unassuming and very much at ease among a few friends, both the nominee and his wife, Margaret, had high praise for their friends and little or nothing to say concerning the magic of the Hurley name.

A graduate of Boston College in the class of 1930, Hurley is the fourth State Treasurer of that name to be nominated to the office, and if elected, will be the fourth Hurley to occupy the office.

3 OTHER HURLEYS
Francis X. Hurley, present State Treasurer, was the third member of the magic-named Hurleys to hold the office, with William F. Hurley, the second, and former Gov. Charles F. Hurley, first, for three full terms.

"My friends came through for me against almost insurmountable odds, and it will be my aim and duty to follow through for them by discharging my duties, if elected, honestly, faithfully and efficiently," said Nominee Hurley. The father of two children, Janice, 3, and John E., Jr., 2, Hurley praised his wife, Mrs. Margaret, for her help.

Mrs. Hurley, bubbling over but still maintaining a natural calmness, said: "Naturally, I'm thrilled. What wife wouldn't be? John has worked hard and faithfully—this is his reward. I'm very proud of him."

THE PRIME OF LIFE CAN BE PROLONGED

Dr. Henry G. Sherman Says:
"A generous supply of Calcium results in better development of the young, a higher form of adult health, and a longer lease of what we may call the prime of life—the period between maturity and old age."

FOOD RATIONING MAY NOT SUPPLY SUFFICIENT CALCIUM
WICKARD, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.
Calcium is more often deficient in the diet than any other mineral. Calcium deficiency is a form of malnutrition that may be the cause of acidity, nervousness, fatigue, weakened heart muscles and other effects which hasten the onset of "OLD AGE" and shorten the "PRIME OF LIFE."

AM I NERVOUS?

Sleeplessness with ragged, jagged, nervous, may be due to a calcium deficiency which upsets the parathyroid glands causing intense sensitivity of the whole nervous system.

DO I TIRE EASILY?

A calcium starved body tires easily. A calcium deficiency may cause an upset nervous system, less strength, energy and vitality. No person can be normal without a sufficient supply of calcium.

AM I OLD AT 40?

Old at 40, evidence of early aging, perhaps at 30 or 40, may be due to calcium deficiency. Calcium is needed, in adequate amount, to the repair and growth of body organs, tissues, cells. If your health is impaired, if you are run down, tired, old at 40 and nervous because you do not get enough Calcium or Vitamin D or Vitamin B and KAL to your diet, how much better you feel after KAL helps to build up, then maintain a normal Calcium-Phosphorus balance and help overcome the ill effects of a deficiency of the vital elements KAL so richly supplies.

decisive than the 13 to 11 triumph of Roger L. Putnam over Francis E. Kelly in 1942.

The story was written by voters in the towns and other cities where in many cases Tobin ran three to one.

Even in Cambridge, formerly Hurley's home town, 5769 voted for the mayor, as compared to 2623 for Hurley.

Worcester gave Tobin 3629 to 1973 for Hurley. Springfield handed the mayor 2312 for a two-to-one margin.

Fall River jured the Tobin parade by giving him 3278 to Hurley's 1557. In neighboring New Bedford the mayor won less easily. The score for him was 1452, for Hurley, 1047.

Lawrence made it 5458 for Tobin, 1043 for Hurley. Pittsfield gave the mayor more than a three-to-one margin, with 1858 to Hurley's 563.

Winthrop was a two-to-one Tobin stronghold. Eleven three-to-one. Newton favored the mayor, 587 to 311. Brookline 1137 to 406.

Gov. Saltonstall became the GOP nominee for U. S. Senator without opposition. The same was true of Lieut. Gov. Cabell in his bid for nomination as governor.

John Hurley, who was secretary to Paul A. Dever when the latter was Attorney General, was the Democratic nomination as State Treasurer, with 116,414 votes. He found no serious opposition.

The winner of a two-man race for Commonwealth Secretary of State was John M. Bresnahan, of Boston—who had withdrawn from the fight.

Bresnahan picked up 57,617 votes, nevertheless, to defeat Mrs. Margaret O'Riordan of Cambridge, Democratic national committee.

woman. She had a total of 74,652.

In a last minute move, Bresnahan had used newspaper advertising to announce he was withdrawing to run in Essex county, on stickers, for a place in the governor's executive council.

Jap Mystery Girl Afloat at Saipan

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)

The story of a 13-year-old Japanese girl who spent five days in sun-baked Saipan harbor without discovery or apparently serious injury was told today in a dispatch from Saipan's Marine-occupied Charan-Kanoa Hospital.

Known to, as she is known, spent those five days afloat on a life preserver.

Sgt. Nellie T. Roberts of Pasigahan, Miss., a Marine combat correspondent, wrote that she was picked up 25 miles at sea June 17. "She ignores the war and calmly reads a Japanese comic book," Roberts reported.

Dogs' Dogs

LONDON, July 12 (AP)—The German flying bomb attacks on London have given rise to a new development—"bomb socks" for dogs.

Dog owners in areas strewn with glass from shattered windows now are equipping their pets with socks to prevent their feet from being cut.

"I COULDN'T STAND HARSH LAXATIVES!"

Kellogg's All-Brans Brought Relief! Says Ex-Sufferer!

If you, too, are a sufferer, be sure to read this unsolicited letter!

"My system was sluggish, after I'd been sick, and I couldn't stand harsh laxatives. I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, and I feel like a new man. We have a box of it in the house all the time. Just for variety, several times a week, we mix a small portion of other cereals with the ALL-BRAN. It's delightful! And we still get the benefits from the ALL-BRAN." Mrs. Joseph W. Paine, 31 Englewood Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

What's the secret of such amazing relief for so many? Simply this: KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can "get at" constipation due to lack of certain "cellulose" elements in the diet—because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic contents for easy, natural elimination! ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out"! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is this kind, eat ALL-BRAN, or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't praise its welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Gov. Blood Sees His Loss Pointing F. D.'s

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 12 (AP)—Republican Gov. Robert O. Blood went down to defeat in yesterday's primary in a tradition-shattering bid for a third term.

With 285 of the state's 296 precincts reported, Gov. Blood, a surgeon and veteran of World War I, trailed Charles M. Dale, mayor of Portsmouth and former president of the State Senate, 27,451 to 19,210.

"It is apparent the people of New Hampshire are opposed to a third term for governor," Blood said, "and this, I hope, is indicative of the way they will vote on the question of a fourth term for President."

TOBEY WINS

"The Republicans of New Hampshire chose Charles M. Dale, of Portsmouth, as their candidate for governor. Like a good Republican I will respect their choice and wish him much success in his term as governor."

U. S. Sen. Charles W. Tobey, Republican veteran in Congress, was renominated for a second term over U. S. Rep. Foster Stearns, now completing a third term. The vote, with only 11 precincts missing: Tobey 26,134, Stearns 19,345.

Chester Merrow, Republican Representative from the First Congressional District, was renominated for a second term, and will be opposed by Fortunat Normandin, a newcomer who won the only Democratic contest.

With six of 130 precincts missing in the first district, Merrow had 15,564 votes to 7959 for Arthur B. Jenks, former Congressman.

ADAMS FAR AHEAD

In the same precincts, Normandin polled 5334 votes to 3799 for Bernard O'Kane, Dover storekeeper.

Sherman Adams, former speaker of the House of Representatives, won the Republican nomination in Stearns' district by a wide margin.

Results of Poll In Other States

(By Associated Press)

Republican Governor Arthur E. Langlie of Washington led Maj. Louis Wasmer, Spokane radio station owner, today in an apparently successful bid for renomination. Sen. Mon C. Wallgren was unopposed for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Democratic Lieut.-Gov. Victor A. Meyers won renomination.

In the Democratic race for the Senate seat of Homer T. Fone, recently named to the federal bench, Rep. Warren G. Magnuson had a commanding lead.

Maj. Harry Cain, Yakima's mayor on leave with the Army, led a field of 11 for the Republican nomination.

In Michigan's only state-wide contests, Vernon J. Brown, state auditor general, defeated the incumbent, Eugene C. Keyes, for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant governor, and Edward J. Fry took a commanding lead for Democratic gubernatorial endorsement to oppose Republican Gov. Harry F. Kelly, unopposed in his party primary.

Early returns gave Adam S. Bennion of Salt Lake City a lead in the four-man race for the Republican senatorial nomination in Utah.

Bond Booster

DENVER (AP)—Mrs. E. F. Wood, coming home after canvassing her block for War Bond purchases, missed her three-year-old son, Jimmie. The mailman, reporting a small boy was ringing doorbells farther down the block, ended Jimmie's own bond-peddling campaign.

But Jimmie brought home the bacon. A note clutched in his fist said, "Mrs. Wood, see me." Mrs. Wood did . . . and sold a bond.

Nelson Program Starts Saturday

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Donald M. Nelson's program for reconversion in miniature, fought by the Army and Navy in one of Washington's most explosive inter-agency struggles, will go into partial effect Saturday and full effect Aug. 15.

In a compromise, the WPP chairman agreed to postpone until mid-August the most important part of his program—an order which would permit manufacturers to make civilian goods now restricted or banned entirely, upon approval from WPB field offices.

Three other orders—all vital to industry but of less immediate concern to consumers—will appear at seven-day intervals starting Saturday with the lifting of curbs on the use of aluminum and magnesium.

The Roosevelt Candidacy

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has announced that if he is nominated for a fourth term he will accept, and that if he is elected he will serve.

"If the people command me to continue in this office and in this war," he says, "I have as little right to withdraw as the soldier has to leave his post in the line."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

The President thus persists in his old pretense that while he personally yearns for retirement and relief from responsibility, he must yield to the mandate of the people.

It is an absurd pretense, that challenges the intelligence of the people and his own sincerity.

The Democratic National Convention has been PACKED for his nomination by his own sycophantic organization, and with his own knowledge and consent.

Every effort has been made by the same organization, also with his knowledge and consent, to PACK THE ELECTION for the same purpose.

The President has done everything in his power, not only for the last four years but for the last twelve years, to establish the myth of his indisposability to his party and to the nation.

No member of his administration has ever been given opportunity to demonstrate capacity for the Presidency or permitted to have and exercise the powers and responsibilities of office in a manner to prove his capacity to the people.

No member of his party has ever been encouraged to establish his capacity and availability for the Presidency, although the Democratic party abounds with efficient and patriotic leaders eminently capable of national leadership; and those who have asserted their availability despite the President's discouragement have been belittled and disparaged and even subjected to attempted purging from the party.

Mr. Roosevelt has always sought, and contrived to be, the ONLY Presidential candidate of the Democratic party. He is the PROFESSIONAL candidate of the Democratic party.

He is apparently determined to be the PERPETUAL candidate of the Democratic party.

The myth of his purported indisposability is disputed and refuted, however, by the most responsible and respected leaders of the Democratic party.

AT THE BEGINNING of his New Deal administration, the responsible and respected leaders of the Democratic party assumed he intended to conduct a democratic AMERICAN administration, and accepted important offices under it in accordance with that assumption.

With singular and significant unanimity, they found it was a FALSE assumption.

Consequently, the parade of responsible and respected leaders of the Democratic party OUT of his administration has been continuous, until today the New Deal administration embraces a motley array of sycophants with no previous experience in government and no subsequent proof of capacity for or faith in democratic government.

The myth of Mr. Roosevelt's asserted indisposability is also disputed and refuted by the American people as a whole.

The people of the twenty-six most populous and productive and important states have elected, and have consistently sustained, Republican state governments.

The people have deprived the Democratic party of a majority in the House of Representatives.

The people have sharply reduced the majority of the Democratic party in the United States Senate.

The traditionally Democratic Southern states are in open revolt against the New Deal and several of them have served notice that their electors will REPUDIATE Mr. Roosevelt if he is nominated.

These are not evidences of public demand or command for the nomination and election of Mr. Roosevelt, but conclusive evidences of an exactly opposite public opinion and desire.

Mr. Roosevelt is not a reluctant candidate, bowing to the will of the people; but the willing and ambitious and arrogant candidate of the bureaucratic army into which his original New Deal administration quickly deteriorated.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—I was surprised, if not utterly amazed, to learn that Mr. C. V. R. Thompson, correspondent of Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express, had cabled a piece to his paper condemning Chicago as a place of wassail and frivolity.

The gist of Mr. Thompson's literary offering was that Chicago is not very war conscious and that every other building seems to be a nightclub or saloon. He may have written it "public house"—dropping the "H," of course, to save cable tolls—but you get the general idea.

One reason for my astonishment was that I had no inkling Mr. Thompson had journeyed to Chicago to check up on its entertainment possibilities. In fact, he told me himself that he was there to cover the Republican National Convention.

It just goes to show, I suppose, that you shouldn't believe everything you hear, and I hope this doesn't turn me into a cynic. But Mr. Thompson had all the earmarks of a man covering the convention—he had a badge, and perspiration dripping off his chin—so it seemed reasonable to assume he was being veracious.

But what really amazes me is that Mr. Thompson missed the war consciousness in Chicago. Even to a casual observer the city seemed in the war up to its neck.

Of course, Mr. Thompson may have thought that all those sipping cocktails—you will pardon the expression, I hope were turning out kewpie dolls, or maybe blackjacks for nightclub bouncers. But it seems to me he could have strained a point just this once and asked even at the risk of appearing crass and un-British.

Naturally, I wouldn't have wanted him to go too far because it is not considered good form, or even top hole, for a cultured Englishman to go around displaying curiosity, particularly about what is really going on in this country.

Another angle: Apparently Mr. Thompson thought these night spots he attended were pretty sinful. At least, he did not give the impression that they were endorsed by the Boy Scouts or the Y. M. C. A.

Now, it so happens, by a not very amazing coincidence, that I was in the same spots at the same time as Mr. Thompson. We saw the same things—or, at least, I thought we did, until I learned what Mr. Thompson had written.

The reason we were in the same spots is that I had done an exhaustive job of research, ascertaining where one could go in Chicago in the late evening after the convention had ceased convening. It was hard work getting information because it seemed there are not too many places to go.

Always being one to share knowledge, I spread my findings around. The upshot was, that every time we went, Mr. Thompson followed presently.

At not one of these places did I see anything I hadn't seen before in New York, Washington and elsewhere. It was what might be called standard nightclub entertainment. As always, it was carefully calculated to bore the pants off you—which probably explains why the ladies of the ensemble were not overrated.

FOR MANY YEARS now there has been a distinct school among the English correspondents, devoted to proving that nearly everybody in this country is a crackpot, or at least, mildly demented.

Members of this school have striven to create the impression that the leaders of American thought are afe society notables.

Prohibition and the machine-gunnings gave them wonderful pegs on which to hang their lurid accounts. Almost invariably they wrote as if they had covered the doings at first hand.

It was commonplace for a correspondent to begin his piece, "I saw Al Capone yesterday and he said . . ." although the correspondent was in New York and had no idea of Mr. Capone's current whereabouts.

But they didn't give up after repeal. They kept on writing the same stuff. About the only possibility they retained for portraying as typically American were shenanigans between cowboys and Indians—probably because they never got far enough from 42d street and Broadway to find out if we still had Indians.

BRITISH MAINTAIN an information service here, but, apparently, the British correspondents do not tap it for much information. Maybe, if Mr. Thompson had begged hard enough, it could have found out for him what Chicago is doing in the way of war manufacturing.

The city's plants produced 10 billion dollars worth of stuff last year—nearly four fifths of which was strictly war supplies.

I presume Mr. Thompson will be returning to Chicago next week for the Democratic Convention.

I only hope that—in the interest of vivacious journalism—he will not try to dig up Bugs Moran, Don O'Banion, and Machine Gun Jack McGurn, and have them shooting up the Stevens Hotel!

"COME JOSEPHINE in my flying machine that is also an automobile." Well, there may be a song like that soon. The noted inventor, William E. Stout, has organized a flying automobile that will be on sale one year after the war for $1750. When used as a plane, the machine will have wings that will fold up on landing and then permit it to be used as an automobile. In the air it will do 110 miles an hour and get 20 miles on a gallon of gas. On land it will do 50 miles per hour and get 25 miles per gallon of gas. BOY, that post-war world is going to be really something. When will it start?

CHALLENGE: Marty Loughman of Nogales, Ariz., has a female Springer spaniel. Marty claims female dogs are smarter than males, and has challenged me to match my male Springer against his female in an intelligence test. I accept the challenge. First, however, I must dispose of the match race between Clem McCarthy a Vermont turkey and my Long Island duck. You will recall I started a duck could run faster than a turkey, which Clem Mr. McCarthy promptly branded as ridiculous and said he would back a turkey to beat any duck I could get in a running race. Now Clem says his turkey is not rounding into form as expected and he seeks a postponement of the race. That's all right with me. Though my duck is at the top of his running form he still bears out a little in the stretch.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Why not a woman President of the United States? Just answer me that. A—That's what I say, Lady. Why not? Queen Elizabeth did all right for the British Empire. Much better than most men rulers. So did Queen Victoria. So why not give a woman a chance to see what she can do for the United States? When do you suggest?

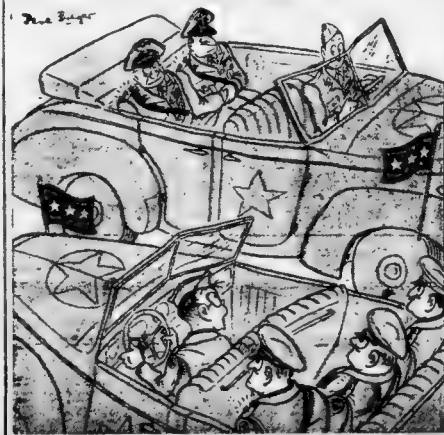

Q—Am a tall blond who is about to become a professional singer. Could you suggest a good professional name for me? A—Well, you should have a name that is different, will catch the eye and be easily remembered.

How about Delia Desine?

Q—Am a U. S. Navy man. My height is six feet, one inch. My girl friend's height is five feet, seven and a half inches. She thinks she is too tall and worries about it. What do you think?

A—I think your girl friend's height is just about right. Not tall enough to be topeavy. Just tall enough to be terrific. Nicholson said the ideal height for a woman was five feet, seven inches.

ASIDES: Californian says his youngest son is three years of age and his eldest son is 45. Forty-two years between the youngest and oldest child. The British have decided the publisher and composers of "Lili Marlene" should receive royalties from the sale of this song in England. HOLLYWOOD, July 12-17 and when Robert Cummings is free from his Universal legal troubles, he will make a picture for Harold Lloyd. "The Freshman," which many people regard as Harold's best, was run a few weeks ago for Preston Sturges, who is crazy about the story and the idea. The plan now is to bring it up to date, with Bob doing the Lloyd role.

THE LONG and tender attachment of Marion Davies and her toy Dachshund was broken today when death called the little fellow away from his mistress' side. "Gandhi" returned from Europe with Marion about 12 or 13 years ago and since that time he has been her shadow, jealously guarding her and growling at any stranger who came near her. He has had his picture taken many times and has been seen and admired by celebrities from all over the world. He was known to all Marion's friends, who frequently commented on her devotion to the little toy Dachshund. Only those who have lost a dog they loved can appreciate her sadness at losing a friend as tender, as loving and as constant in his affection.

WHAT, SUSAN HAYWARD to play Joan Crawford's daughter? Not a bad idea with mothers these days looking younger than their daughters. Anyhow, Jerry Wald is trying to borrow Susan from Paramount to play Mildred Pearce's daughter. Joan is "Mildred Pearce" and if she consents and Franchot Tone is willing, he will be offered the male role.

HENRY CINSBERG, who takes over the Buddy De Sylva place at Paramount, will surround himself with an associate managing producer, associate managing writer and others on an advisory board which he himself will select. I think the fact that Henry wants the advice of others indicates the man's character more than any words of mine can possibly do.

ALL CONFLICTING rumors about Elyse Knox and Lt. Tommy Harmon (that they had rifled and then that they were secretly married) can be tossed out the window. Elyse and Tommy will be married August 26 at Ann Arbor, Mich., in the little chapel where Harmon worshipped during his All-America football days.

JOAN FONTAINE, who is sure to make a picture before long, will be asked to play opposite Cary Grant in "Jubal Troop" the minute Cary signs. That is a very good combination (Cary and Joan) for it was they who were in "Suspicion," at RKO, which won Joan the Academy Award.

THERE'S NO TRUTH in the rumor that Betty Grable is retiring to welcome the stork again. She gets here next Monday with Harry James and reports the same day for fittings at 20th for "Diamond Horseshoe."

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Jane Russell is in the Cedars of Lebanon for an operation on her arm; Jack Hopkins, the rich Cleveland boy who followed Linda Darnell all over the country, and was one time devoted to June Preisler, is marrying Mary Conley Thursday. She is a MGM starlet; Greta Garbo, who fractured her foot escaping from a burglar, is staying with a friend now. She no longer "wants to be alone."

ALLAN JONES SAYS: New York has one thing that Hollywood could use—that system of having handsome policemen ride even handsomer horses.

But Hollywood has something that New York could use—every star has a trademark in addition to a well publicized face. . . . Yes, old Hollywood way we know our people even if we only catch a glimpse of their heads. . . . For instance: If he's sitting in Row G on the aisle at the Legion Stadium on fight night and marking down numbers on his program, that's Charlie Coburn chalking it off on his win-loss page for his bets on the black corner. . . . Get the idea?

IF SHE'S RIDING a bike in the rain (concentrated dew) and wearing shorts it's K. T. Stevens and worth a peek. . . . If a flock of the best names gathered around a table on the porch at Preston Sturges' Players, we know that Hollywood's best hostess, Ria Gable, is the gal who drew them.

IF SHE ORDERS a second chocolate soda, at Brittingham's, and you can't find her because her figure is the kind you'd like to own, it's Ann Miller. . . . If he leaves his home at 5 in the morning and drives down the Hollywood Hills toward the studio, it's Cliff Odets, who ain't at his wife but just got an IDEA. . . . If the gal is handing a Vine St. bootblack a buck it's usually Annie Sheridan, who has learned to play the numbers.

IF YOU SHOULD be sprinkling your lawn and a jolly red-checked man doffs his cap, smiles and says: "How are you, Brother Outlaw?"—we don't call for the ya-ya wagon, but ask for his autograph. He's that celebrity with a delicious sense of humor—William Farnum, the noblest Roman of them all. . . . EXCLUSIVE: THE WPB is being petitioned already for approval of a half-million dollar building expenditure on whose granting or rejection may rest the immediate fate of Boston's famed City Club. . . . The City Club is supposed to close its doors when a "surplus" in the treasury of some $2000 is used.

AS THE CITY went to the polls on primary day, one of the amusing speeches being recalled by some interested politicians awaiting the results was that of former Senator Elmer Foote, the irrepressible orator and sometime unwilling comedian. . . . Sausage, Bologna Dishes Make Suppers Simple

By MARTHA LEE

SERVE UP and let them help themselves! Combine ready-to-serve meat and crisp sizzling bacon for a summer supper tray. And let family and guests eat as they will—combining liver sausage and bacon on rye bread, or cervelat and mustard pickles on whole wheat. Serve quantities of perogies, tossed together perhaps by an interested guest. You'll find summer suppers simple, fun and good to eat.

FRIED LIVER SAUSAGE AND ONIONS

1 lb. liver sausage, sliced 1/2 inch thick
1 lb. onions, peeled and sliced 1/2 inch thick
2 tbsp. bacon drippings
Cook sliced onions in bacon drippings until tender (5 to 7 minutes), seasoning to taste. Move to hot platter. Brown the liver sausage on both sides in the bacon drippings. Serve hot. Makes 5 servings.

Bologna Cups with POTATO SALAD

Have large bologna sliced on No. 9 or 11 slicer (twice the usual thickness) and allow two slices for each person. Put a little fat in the frying pan and heat the slices of bologna just long enough to cup them, not fry them. It takes about 1 minute for each slice. Arrange cups on chop plate and fill with spoonful of potato salad topped with a sprig of parsley.

BOLOGNA CORNUCOPIAS

1 lb. bologna
3 cups soft bread crumbs
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tbsp. minced onion
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup meat drippings
1/2 cup water or milk
1 cup tomato puree
Fold single slices of bologna to form a cornucopia. Fasten each with a toothpick. Combine crumbs, salt, onion and celery. Add fat to warm milk or water and pour over bread mixture. Fill cornucopias, place in a shallow baking pan. Pour tomato juice over bologna. Bake at 400 deg. F. 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

OVEN-COOKED THUNDER

1 1/2 lbs. fresh thunder sausage
2 cups water 2 tbsp. flour salt and pepper
Arrange sausage links in flat baking dish. Add one cup of water and cook uncovered in a 425 deg. F. oven for 30 minutes. Remove links from pan. Stir flour into meat stock until smooth. Gradually add remaining water, stirring constantly. Place links in gravy. Reduce oven heat to 350 deg. F. and continue cooking for 30 minutes. Season gravy to taste and serve hot.

POTATO SALAD

1 cups cold boiled potatoes
1 chopped onion
1 pimiento, diced
1 cup diced cucumbers, or 1/2 cup diced pickles
1/2 cup French dressing
Cooked salad dressing or mayonnaise
Slice or dice potatoes, add onion, pimiento, cucumbers, or pickles, mix with French dressing, which should be well seasoned, and let stand in refrigerator 1 to 2 hours. Mix with cooked salad dressing or mayonnaise, serve on lettuce, and garnish with parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Celery, cut in cubes, or celery seed may be used with other ingredients, if desired. Minced parsley may replace the pimiento.

SALAD BOWL

1/2 head lettuce
1/2 bunch endive or other greens
1/2 bunch watercress
2 tomatoes, cut in sections
2 stalks celery, cut in sticks
4 radishes, sliced
1 small onion, chopped
1 green pepper, sliced
1/2 cup salad dressing or French dressing
Break lettuce in bowl; tear endive and watercress in 1-inch pieces. Arrange tomato sections, celery sticks, radishes, onions, and green pepper over top of greens. Pour over dressing and toss lightly. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Wishful Thinking?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: So many mistreated women have written you about their brute husbands, so I thought a brute husband should write you now.

I was a bachelor of 32 when I met a lovely young girl of 18, and after a few months of courtship we married. I worship her. I was her slave. I gave her everything necessary and unnecessary. We lived near an Army camp, and much to my dismay my wife became interested in the uniforms. I have never argued against the uniform, except that I couldn't pass the physical.

One day I came home from work early, with no idea of checking up on the home front, and there I found my wife entertaining a soldier. I felt no anger against the soldier—he was quite embarrassed, and obviously didn't know my wife was married. I was furious at my wife, so I took her across my knee and spanked her. The soldier left. For days after I felt like Simon Legree.

The picture has definitely changed. I'm now the boss, and can't say I enjoy it, but I intend to be until I'm sure I can trust my wife when I'm away from home. She is young and was acting like a silly, and I don't hold a thing against her. She seems quite happy. Have I made a mistake to turn from being a devoted husband, to the boss? I love my wife and she seems to love me.

T.B.
Not often do we get a letter which convicts us of being a doubting Thomas. This one does. The remedy would probably set a high-spirited girl to picking her suitors. We wonder if the spanking isn't a case of wishful thinking.

Cool Prints for Afternoons

By BETTINA BEOWELL

IN THE middle of a heatwave the dearest possession a woman can have is a cool, fresh-looking dress to wear. And high on the list of such dresses is one in printed material in cool colors, like the deep blue and white of the dress in Miss Dunt's sketch.

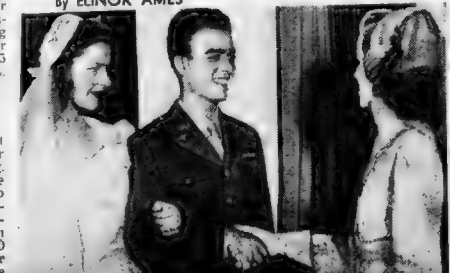

This is a Lyolene dress, and the design of the material is small. This brilliant designer makes the dress very simple, with short sleeves, and then puts a new touch onto the waist, which is nothing more or less than a bra of the material, draped over and softening the bosom line, with soft ties at the center. Above the bra there is a yoke that is draped like a fichu.

A wide white straw hat like the hat of a Chinese coolie is worn with the dress.

Time to Plant Late Crops

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of Vegetable Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Boston-American-Agriculture demonstration garden on Suffolk Common.

The rains came just in time to give victory gardens a good growing boost, so cultivate seedlings just as soon as the ground dries out and get all the value the showers have brought.

Weeds are still a menace in some gardens and are taking a lot of strength away from the crops. Yields will be reduced unless the weed control program is followed closely.

PLAN FOR LATE CROPS

Last year the weak spot in many gardens was the failure in late crop production. Now is the time to check your garden plans for late planting. Clean up early crops such as peas, lettuce, early cabbage, beans and spinach and replace with late cabbage, turnips and other crops.

If you plan to plant late turnips for storage, put in a few rows of Rutabagas soon. These larger-growing plants must be given more space than the early turnips. Space rows about 2½ feet apart.

For late carrots, the Hutchinson planted now will produce excellent roots for storage.

LEAF CURL ON TOMATOES. Recently there have been several calls about leaf curl on tomatoes. This condition is quite common and may be caused by either plant lice or dry weather. It is generally an indication of dry weather and gives the plant a chance to survive.

Check your plant for aphids or plant lice and dust or spray with nicotine compounds. This material can be added to the Bordeaux sprays or dusts and applied at the same time.

PRUNE TOMATOES

Many gardeners have started out to stake and prune tomatoes, but do not seem to realize the importance of thorough pruning. I have seen a number of cases where many side shoots have been left on too long. If you are training tomatoes to a single

WHAT TO DO ABOUT CONSTIPATION

(Advice of some of our pre-eminent doctors)
The strain of modern life may tighten up our lower digestive tract and cause a "back up" of food waste. That's the common reason for constipation.
The advice is the advice of some of our pre-eminent doctors. They say a laxative may be taken occasionally as indicated. And among others they recommend the active ingredient in Soporin.
Try Soporin tonight as directed on the label. If you don't awake fully tomorrow full of beans wait for the day—Soporin.

'Four Jills' Merry Comedy On Para-Fenway Screens

By JOYCE DANA

Phil Silvers is the lucky fellow who escorts Kay Francis, Carol Landis, Martha Raye and Mitzi Mayfair on their cinematic jaunt in "Four Jills in a Jeep," a star-studded package of swell entertainment currently at the Paramount and Fenway. That, boys and girls, is an assignment!

Phil's pretty funny about the whole thing, too, and his high spirits are not to be wondered at. The story is, of course, loosely patterned after the trip the four-some of Hollywood stars actually made to entertain our GI Joes in various war theaters, including a sojourn not far from the front lines in North Africa, where they doubled as nurses' aides in an emergency.

But it's mostly songs and dances, with a minimum of war to set the background. There's likeable Dick Haymes to sing (and the Voice gets plenty of competition) such smoothies as "How Many Times Do I Have to Tell You" and "How Blue the Night," and Betty Grable to turn on the charm in "Cuddle Up a Little Closer," and Carmen Miranda to roll those big eyes and flutter those expressive hands in "Yi Yi Yi, I Like You Very Much," and Alice Faye to lend new meaning to "You'll Never Know."

Martha's "Mr. Paganini" had the khaki-clad extras and the opening houses panicked. Mitzi proves the cutest jitterbug you ever saw, in addition to offering those tap routines in the marvelous Mayfair manner. In the groove and keeping the hep-cats happy is the Jimmy Dorsey band, with Mr. Silvers, incidentally, runner-up for clarinet honor.

At the girls find romance over where the foxholes are plentiful, with Miss Francis interrupting her mistress of ceremony role long enough to be proposed to while she's scrubbing floors in an operating room. John Harvey is the lucky fellow to capture the Landis heart. Mitzi pairs up prettily with the Haymes lad. George Jessel shares the ceremonial honors, broadcasting from Hollywood to the lads overseas. Director Bill Seiter "peeps things bumbling along, and neither you nor the boys in the armed services could ask for anything more in the way of just knockout entertainment.

An extra added attraction to the band's regular routine is the "Sing a Song with Lyman" contest. At the end of each day, Lyman chooses the winner, and the six finalists compete on the last night for a $100 War Bond and other prizes.

O'Mahoney Lauds U. S. Service Men

By JACK CONWAY

"THE 10,500,000 men in our armed forces are the best physical specimens that ever represented any nation," Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming told this writer at the Parker House. "Our fighting men are better trained, better clothed and cared for, and given superior food to any service men we have had.

"The best of doctors are taking care of our men in service. In order to bring the health of the entire country up to the high plane set by the services, plans are now being considered for national health clinics."

I asked Senator O'Mahoney, who is a member of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, how long he thought it would be before the war in Europe ends.

"I give Germany six more months, on the information I have received," replied Senator O'Mahoney. "The morale of the German army and that of the German people has not broken. Germany is suffering military defeats, but it is fighting back as best it can. The defeat of Germany will be brought about by the lack of oil, planes and the other things so necessary to carry on a successful war. They are rationing oil for the German war machine.

"It has been production by the United States that has placed the Allied Nations in such a dominant position. After Pearl Harbor, we did not have a fleet large enough to care for one ocean. Today we have the largest fleet in the world, and can guard our interests on all oceans.

"We have a floating drydock that cost $40,000,000 that can service a battleship at sea. It required 25 tons of paper to draw plans for this huge drydock.

"American ingenuity has overcome all obstacles. In the dark days immediately after Pearl Harbor, it was necessary to get a battleship to the West Coast. It was not certain whether such a huge ship could pass through the locks of the Panama Canal. Navy scientists, who know all about seas, waterways and winds, showed how it could be done with just six inches to spare. The battleship then passed through the locks successfully."

Supreme in Air

SENATOR O'Mahoney declared the United States is supreme in the air.

"We are now turning out planes faster than we can use them," he declared. "The bombing attacks on Europe have reduced Germany's oil supplies, wrecked her plane factories, damaged her lines of communication and helped pave the road to victory."

I asked Senator O'Mahoney how long he thought it would take to conquer the Japs after Hitler was beaten.

"From what information I have at hand," answered Senator O'Mahoney, "it will require about six months. We have made big advances in the Pacific. The war is moving very fast everywhere."

Sen. O'Mahoney spoke with enthusiasm of the spirit and the ability of the American service man. His eyes flashed as he told of a nephew who has been fighting in the South Pacific for two years. It was with pride he told me of the Nebraska boy he had appointed to Annapolis who was one of the last officers to leave the sinking Hornet.

Aid for Veterans

SEN. O'MAHONEY is for all out aid to veterans. He believes that in addition to the present legislation, there should be a setup by which veterans returning from the battle fronts of the world can be financed in business.

"If we are to have a prosperous America in the post-war period, we must have small business," said Senator O'Mahoney. "The small business man is a definite factor in the life of his community. He builds homes and educates his children. It is not good for big business to eliminate small business. If this were carried to the extreme, there would be a strong likelihood that government would take over big business."

"Big business should consider the prosperity of each community. It should do things that are good for the country as a whole rather than make moves which are governed entirely in terms of profit.

"I have great faith in America and in its future. The West has tremendous natural resources which have hardly been touched. Its population is small considering its size and compared with the populations of the East and of Europe."

Senator O'Mahoney, who used to be a Boston newspaperman before going West, came here with Mrs. O'Mahoney to visit relatives. The O'Mahoneys were to leave Boston for New York today. From there they will go to Chicago for the Democratic convention.

O'Mahoney says President Roosevelt, who has announced he is prepared to accept a fourth term, will be nominated without opposition.

Klepper Finds 'Ivory' Hard to Find

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12 (AP)—William H. Klepper, general manager of the Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast League, returned today from a talent hunt around the big league circuits—empty-handed.

Defense plants are the one good source of players, he reported, but not even the majors can entice them to leave.

Ryan, Tobin Win Honors

By FRED HOEY

The Braves may roar with glee. Their two representatives in last night's All-Star game at Pittsburgh delivered handsomely. They were Connie Ryan the second baseman and Jim Tobin, the stout-handed pitcher. They both helped tremendously in the 7-1 triumph over their American League rivals, the worst licking the junior league has been subjected to since the inception of these annual classics.

Raynham Donates $46,000 to Fund

RAYNHAM, July 11—Russ Murray, general manager of the little Raynham Park, flung a challenge in the teeth of all sports promoters the country over when, in a gesture unparalleled in the history of New England sports, he turned over close to $46,000 to the fund for disabled veterans sponsored by these papers.

He did it last night, before a backdrop of music and marching men, in one of the most thrilling patriotic spectacles this part of the nation ever has seen. He did it before a crowd of more than 10,000 celebrating customers, as his 49-night meeting came to a spectacular, record-smashing conclusion.

We of this paper had promised the folks of Bristol County a memorable night if they attended, and thanks to Murray and Lt. Col. Walter Brown and band officer Jack Marhard and a host of others who must remain anonymous, we delivered an evening that will be remembered for many years by the largest crowd ever to attend a greyhound race in this country.

CROWD RESPONDS

The crowd was sparked into enthusiasm by the military spectacle that preceded the racing. The parade of representatives of every branch of the service; the flag-raising ceremonies; the salute to the dead by a firing squad from the first service command; the expert baton twirling of Miss Marie Carr of Pawtucket; and the amazing music furnished by the Boston port of entertainment and, under the lead of T-Sgt. Reuben Green, late of Ruby Newman's fine band; all served to put the crowd in a mood of high jollification.

High spot of the evening was reached when Jack Conway, executive sports editor of these papers, introduced first Lt. Col. Brown and then Russ Murray to the overflow crowd, to an ovation that could be heard for miles of quiet countryside.

$20,000 PARTY

But privately the high spot had been reached earlier in the evening, when Murray had announced very quietly that his Massachusetts Greyhound Ass'n would pay the $7000 in purse money, largest ever offered at a greyhound track in America for a single night of racing; that it would pay the salary of the help; that it would pay every expense, and that it would turn every penny of the gross proceeds over to the fund for disabled veterans. The result was $27,271.08 for the night's effort, which certainly is something.

This party that he threw must have cost Murray and his associates $20,000 out of their own pockets, as it turned $46,000 more into the pockets of the veterans.

War Medal To Grid Star

PHILADELPHIA, July 11 (AP)—Lt. (jg) Edmund (Mike) Burke, USN, halfback of the University of Pennsylvania football team of 1936-37-38, has been awarded the Silver Star for heroic conduct in the invasion of Italy.

Burke entered Penn from Kingswood School in Connecticut.

Notre Dame Nine Schedules 12 Games

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 12 (AP)—Notre Dame is going to have a "summer" baseball team too.

There were 108 candidates for the second Irish nine of 1944 at the initial practice yesterday, including several Naval V-12 and V-5 students.

The team will play a 12-game schedule during the next two months, said Coach Jake Kline.

Minors Trounce Phils

SCRANTON, Pa., July 12 (AP)—The Scranton Red Sox, lodged in last place in the Eastern league, handed the Philadelphia Phillies a shock last night by trimming them 4 to 1 in an exhibition game.

On the other, our Red Sox participants not only were just so-so, but especially bad and ineffective in spots.

Ryan sparked the big National League uprising in the fifth inning with a single, then stole second base and later scored the tying run on Billy Nicholson's double.

Connie also picked up another single during the course of the evening to join Walker Cooper and Phil Cavaretta as the leading hitters of the after-dark battle. Ryan was immense afield, too. Four put outs and four assists represent real defense, although young Connie was charged with an error when he lost Tex Hughson's drive in the fifth. But the little fellow came up with a stellar play in the previous inning when he leaped in the air and speared Rolfe Hemley's drive.

Jim Tobin, post-entry in this classic, twirled the ninth and had the satisfaction of forcing three tough homers—Verne Stephens, Bob Johnson and Ken Keltner to fly out, to close the game.

Red Sox entries were tried and found very much wanting. The Nationals unleashed that furious fifth inning attack on Tex Hughson. It was a tough night for Tex. Maybe the Pittsburgh smoke got in his eyes.

Tex yielded four runs and five hits in the one and two-thirds innings in which he operated, a very tough and disappointing effort.

So score another triumph for two of Bob Coleman's Braves—Ryan and Tobin. They were magnificent in the clutch and that, after all, is the real test for any player.

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—A doctor's report today was to determine whether top-seeded Francisco (Pancho) Segura will sit out the current River Forest open tennis tournament and perhaps be sidelined for several weeks.

Segura, who has his sights set on the national championship at Forest Hills next month, wrenched his left ankle as he won the western senior tournament at Neenah, Wis., Sunday, which forced him to postpone starting in the meet here for the past two days.

The ankle was X-rayed yesterday, but a final diagnosis was not expected until today. The Ecuador whirlwind, ranked third nationally, said if the injury is not a fracture or a severe strain, he will swing into action today.

However, Segura's coach, Jack Macy, said the star may have to rest two weeks.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12 (AP)—The Oregonian said today that Commr. Edwin Atherton of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Athletic Conference has told conference whistle-blowers not to officiate in the new American Professional (West Coast) Football League.

It said that there had been no official announcement of this, but that Atherton had written officials that conference rules would not permit them to work in professional games.

KANSAS CITY, July 12 (AP)—After a year's absence from the gridiron, Rockhurst College will play a seven-game football schedule this fall, Rev. Paul O. Smith, athletic director, said today.

Attempting to pull away from the field in the Boston Park League standings, Mgr Frankie Spane will send Red Chappie to the Navy Yard mound tonight against Hal Crosby's Lawley Shipyard nine in their twilight game at Lee Playground, South Boston.

The Navy Yard A. A. picked up a full game in its leadership by trouncing the West Roxbury A. A. while the runner-up Dick Casey Club fell by the wayside. With Chappie tossing them up against the speedy Crosby Club, the Navy Yard will be trying to pull another game in front of the idle defending champions. But with Lawley's facing a possibility of moving into the first division, the Charlestown team will be assured of a stubborn fight.
